Amor seco (Desmodium adscendens) is an herb known for its diverse properties, and therefore it was chosen as an ingredient of Liver Reset.

Greater burdock – (Arcticum lappa L.)

The greater burdock root contains many natural constituents, including inulin (an important fibre for the gut), valuable tannins, essential oils and the valuable arctigenin, a lignan — a chemical compound found in various plants that has shown remarkable effects in in vitro studies.

Dandelion – powerful all-rounder

Dandelion (Taraxacum) is credited with numerous properties. Known in naturopathy and earlier in folk tradition, the leaves of this wild plant contain large amounts of vitamins A, C and E, calcium, magnesium and iron.
