Description

Turmeric and ginger – potent, invigorating and antioxidant

Plant-Inflam contains pure plant concentrates such as curcumin from turmeric and gingerols from the ginger root. These specially selected and combined plant compounds act as plant-based antioxidants and therefore offer a particular benefit to our body.

A dosage of 500 mg Longvida® delivers approximately 100 to 115 mg curcuminoids. The raw material has a standardized curcuminoid content of about 20 to 23%. The remaining portion consists predominantly of a special lipid combination, including lecithin and stearic acid. This carrier matrix has been developed to improve the bioavailability of curcumin and to significantly increase its absorption in the body compared with conventional turmeric extracts.
